The Daily Poem

THE RETURN OF THE ROBIN
We greet the brilliant again
With earth in her winter sleep.

Young robin every hill and plain
Sings so sweet.

Young ruby breast pulsation knows
The love, that builds a secret song
With a soft, low, cooing note.

But as, "I will yet be white with
Your green song."

All unbroken came the snow
Our hearts felt down.

But you, my call comes thru the hills
To cheer, cheerly cheerly cheer!

Could we take lesson to heart,
When cold waves threaten life's

Sing us there a cheer-song
That's bright as we were along.

The morning winds blow cold with out a note.

But you, my call comes thru to me,

And all that sleep is awake.

To greet with an spring's greeting
Day.

—Agnes G. Day.

It is the intention of the Edmonton Bulletin to run the "Summer Vacation Guide" every week this summer throughout the season. What is today chosen as the most suitable day in order to give the best service to our readers who get the information they require in print is determined by the number of responses received to the question asked on this page, in addition to general interest expressed in the route, train service, regular and excursion rates, etc., will be given. The more responses there are, the more things there will be known and as far as possible the more will be contained on this page.

BIRCH LAKE:
(Innisfree, C.N.R.)

Leave Edmonton 10:30 a.m.; Arrive
Arrive Edmonton 11:15 a.m.; Depart
Distance of Birch Lake from Innisfree 10 miles.

It is assumed that Birch Lake is always close to the map, but until this summer the fact was not generally known. It is now known that it is for the oversight, and the result is that until this year one Almoner has been sent to the lake to practically overlook.

The lake is 26 miles long, narrow in width and twists and turns into innumerable bays and coves. It is free from rough water and bad waves. Boating on the lake is safe and comfortable in comparative safety. The water has a mineral character as a result of a geyser which erupts at intervals of 45 acres in extent situated 1 mile from the lake. The lake is a great lake often subject to severe fluctuations as in the case of Lake Louise.

Besides the main lake, there are two smaller lakes, one 100 feet deep with very clear water. Under the surface of the water may be found many small fish, particularly suggestive of a geyser eruption in some degree having reached the bottom causing many dead fish.

A dancing pavilion has been erected under the management of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Oakley, that are well known to the community.

A tent city is erected for the convenience of campers who have secured, furnished or unfurnished accommodations. Information regarding them can be obtained from the secretary of the board of trade, innkeepers, etc.

Through the distance is 95 miles by rail it is only about 80 miles by road. The distance from Banff to Birch Lake country from Mount Edmonton to Victoria. The distance from Birch Lake to the center and known as the automobile highway. It is about 100 miles.

Information regarding rates of cars may be had by inquiry from the Kellogg Motor Sales Company, 1012 Main street, phone 2228 or 2248.

Winnipeg, June 20.—A report published today in the Manitoba Free Press that a division exists in the Norris government as to the date of the provincial election was denied by Hon. Other members of the cabinet were not available for comment about mid-June. Announcements of the date have been expected daily for the past week.

A CORDIAL INVITATION TO DISEASE

This is an apt description of Cupid's arrow. It is an unusual weapon to begin with—but it's dangerous because it can hit you in the heart. The system with palomas brings on disease. You don't need a particular disease, just a hard grining medicine—what we call a "cure". You get just what you want. You can't get rid of it which turns up the liver, restores the heart to perfect action, and provides the body with strength enough to keep the body after regaining your system with the help of the best medical men and old—real family medications. Protecting the Taxpayers

Ex. Mayor Clarke contributes a column of adverse comment on the way the voters' list is being made up for use at the municipal elections this fall. His complaint seems to be that the voters' list requires that any person who wishes his name added to the list must go to the city hall in person and make application on the form prescribed for that purpose. It is the opinion of the author that the assessor is evidently a man of good sense, and with some regard to the rights of the taxpayers to have the name of unqualified persons kept off the voters' list.

Mr. Clark would like to have a string of names and have them put on the list without question, asked or precautionary investigations made. Probably there are other parts of the world where he may have a privilege of extending the franchise to their friends in the same manner. The arrangement would be very convenient, altogether too convenient in fact, to any one connected with political manipulations to load up the voters' list with the names of unqualified persons, dead people, absences, and non-existent individuals, and thus change the way for the election of a plurality of candidates on election day. It would enable the gas company, if so minded, to make sure any rates it might please to charge any voter were to be paid in full.

The author has been highly assisted by the provincial legislatures both past and present. The company's latest move was made during the last session of the legislature, and it kind of took the question of the price of gas and fulfillment of terms of franchise out of the hands of the tax paying property owners of the city and vested it in the city council. This is the only way to do it, with the public utilities commission. This is to be said about the assessor is that he is heading off that sort of thing, more power to him what ever means he is employing to do what it.

France Bars the Way

It looks as though the new German-Soviet alliance will have to find itself. Lenin's modest demand for a loan was turned down at Geneva, thanks to France. The international committee of bankers have decided that they will not lend him more than a billion dollars and now—not until it has re-established its solvency. The reason given is that France refuses to consent to a downward revision of the reparations payments. France wants to keep things in accord with the terms of the treaty of Versailles. That, of course, will bring a howl from newspapers in England and other allied countries. France now has the first and supreme duty of the Allies is to finance Germany back into position to compete with them in the industrial world, and to see America up against the business of supplying Europe with war materials. That, of course, will bring a howl from newspapers in England and other allied countries. France now has the first and supreme duty of the Allies is to finance Germany back into position to compete with them in the industrial world, and to see America up against the business of supplying Europe with war materials.

France now has the first and supreme duty of the Allies is to finance Germany back into position to compete with them in the industrial world, and to see America up against the business of supplying Europe with war materials.

For that reason it deserves the hearty thanks of everybody else. It has apparently checked the scheme engineered between Berlin and Moscow, the natural gas which reaches of Edmonton. Their monopoly is in control of the franchise and in favors received the hands of the legislature. Instead of the city council making application to the board of public utilities to confirm the company in to build up the economic strength of the new alliance and enable "vengeful Germany to arm herself." France is right; and in protecting its own stricken people from robbery it is also protecting the other Allied peoples from the handicaps that would be imposed upon them if the new world probably—combination were financed at their expense. The Allied countries have use for all the money they can lay hands on if they are to ravel the tangles of the industrial revival and expansion that alone enable them to pay the bills Germany has not even been asked to pay—to say nothing of bills Germany has promised to pay but has not yet paid. The payment must be made to Paul. To lend money to Moscow would only be to ravel the shackles tighter upon the Russian people, and to provide campaign funds for Bolsheviks abroad.

The Free Press says that the enforcement of the Crow's Nest agreement would reduce the present eastbound rates on wheat 27 per cent. The railways offer a reduction of only 16.66 per cent.; therefore the agreement should be retained. The railway commission from making wheat rates 27 per cent lower than at present if it would not be a fair rate under present conditions, why should it be applied? The Crow's Nest rate was not imposed until after the existence of when it was made. Subsequent conditions left it too high. Still later conditions made it too low. The United States railway commission has the power to reduce railway rates in accordance with changing conditions. The Canadian commission has the same power. The United States commission exercises its power. Why should not the Canadian commission do the same?

The Crow's Nest agreement provides for grain rates eastward. Edmonton and Calgary are 2,200 miles from Atlantic navigation at Montreal. They are 770 and 560 miles respectively from the Great Lakes. The railway commission has the same power. The United States commission exercises its power. Why should not the Canadian commission do the same?

UNCOMMON SENSE

John Blake

their franchise at whatever price the utilities board may see fit, it would be rendering better service to the taxpayers to have the city take over the franchise of the utility companies. The company say they can't supply cheap gas. Then let us at least give them an opportunity to deal with a company that can. Dear gas companies, offer another franchise on the city and let us have a bar to the return of prosperity. If the franchise were declared forfeited we would at least have the possibility of cheap gas for twenty years.

STARTING NEAR THE TOP

Read history, even though it is only a fragment, and you will find that the top of the ladder is near the bottom of your start in life.

You who were born in part, are not likely to realize very near the top.

There are thousands of young men that have started near the bottom, but every thing possible was taxed to carry on the work of life and the process of production, and just values were not realized. The fund should now be called upon to help to care for the old and make up for the loss of population

made necessary.

Conciliation Board Findings

Below are the reports of the Knowles conciliation board regarding southern Alberta and eastern British Columbia disputes between coal miners and operators.

Majority Report

To the Hon. James Murdoch,
Minister of Labor,
OTTAWA.

—A board of conciliation and investigation was appointed for on the 21st March, 1922, by Mr. G. W. Knowles, Minister of Labour and Mr. H. C. MacLean, secretary of the above mentioned District No. 12, in the matter of the coal miners and coal operators proposed reduction in the rates of pay of miners and coal operators. Thereafter, and under your authority, the said board was constituted and Mr. G. Drinnan and Mr. H. C. MacLean, members of the Knowles' chairman, Mr. H. C. Orlund and Mr. G. Drinnan.

The board met at Calgary on Saturday, 1st April, 1922, and having been fully advised of the facts, adjourned. In course of the adjournment, the board received a number of receiving evidence began in the city hall, Calgary, on the 2nd April, 1922, and adjourned on the 4th April, 1922. After taking evidence in the following places were held in the following places respectively various adjournments intervening, namely, Lethbridge, Cochrane, Red Deer, Kamloops, Kamloops, and Kamloops, where the adjournments were held up by the representatives of the respective parties in turn.

Following this, the formal sittings of the board were held at Calgary in an effort to effect conciliation begun.

The representatives of the two parties (on the suggestion of a board member) agreed to meet once with Mr. Knowles, acting as chairman, with a view to securing the light of all the evidence and more particularly to have the same come from the different settings of the board.

The informal conferences were attended by approximately twelve representatives from each side and opened on the 11th April, 1922. The heat of feeling and a desire to settle the dispute was evident from the start at these conferences—but the result was disappointing and the parties returned without any solution to the problem.

The formal conferences were held over a period of time during which the board went into private consultation for the days in with a view to arriving at a solution of the problem. The result was all three members of the board were in agreement that there would be a further adjournment, and the same was taken until the 16th June, 1922, when the board reassembled in Banff on the 16th June, 1922, and again adjourned. The result was that these conferences—but the result was that we had decided that further negotiations without any solution to the problem.

You are aware that on the 31st March last, there expired a two-year agreement between the coal miners and the coal operators. This was paid for by the day, and others are paid for by contract as to yards, tons, or carloads. These scales of pay, as set out in the contracts, were based upon the war time or high cost of living allowances of $1.17 per day, to each man, and were based upon the cost of coal to each bushel.

It was clearly stated that while the representatives of the employees did not specifically commit themselves to any particular scale of pay, they took the ground that there should be no reduction, and that decreases were unacceptable, and the question (which is still open) is whether these reductions should be made.

The basis upon which the board had arrived at the nature of intermittent employment. The duration of the board, and it is the date of the board, will probably be made upon this phase of the case.

Exhibit of filed with the board, dated 12th June, 1922, worked by each man during 1922 shows an increase of 10%.

In the nine aluminum mines the average number of days worked was 15.

In the Antlerite mine (there is only one), number 15 days.

In the Lehrberg mine, number 15 days, while there are three, the average number of days was 20.9%.

In the Princeton mine, which is estimated to be the average days worked was only 12.8%, and in the District No. 12, the average number of days is 14.

It may be noted that there are a number of rather contentious cases and it will be noted that the average days worked was 12.8% for the 128 days work was provided for the men during 15 of these 23 days.

With regard to the coal field, it must be admitted that even though the miners are entitled to a proportionate, but even remunerative, that the fact remains that

WAS TROUBLED WITH HER STOMACH FOR FIVE YEARS

Miss Samuel Ward, Millwood's daughter, "I feel that I must go to you for help. I am so happy and so greatly your opinion did medicine. Burdette Blood Bitters for five years has relieved me better."

"I had stomach trouble as bad as food of any kind, and got so thin and weak that I could not work, but they did me no good. I had to give up my job, and at times, I thought I would die. In fact, I could not live much longer."

"Young, faithful, and strong."

during what might be called the operating months there was in 1921 about 100 days when the time when there was no employee.

The result is that the annual revenue of the mine operators in any way responsible for this—the contrary being that the miners, who are suffering from this economic malady, are suffering from the economic malady.

The miners, who are suffering from the proposed reduction in the rates of pay of miners and coal operators.

There, and under your authority, the said board was constituted and Mr. G. Drinnan and Mr. H. C. Orlund and Mr. G. Drinnan.

SUCCEEDS WHERE DOCTORS FAIL

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Often Does That.
Read Mrs. Miner's Testimony

Cochrane, N.Y.—"It was under the doctor's care for over five years that I suffered from rheumatism and had no relief from his medicine.

One day a woman told me she had told her son about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and he took it. It helped him so well that I asked him to advise all women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For female troubles and backache,

it is a great help in carrying a child.

I didn't take it. I thank you for this medicine. I have never been able to take the doctor's medicine, and I even tried to take the Vegetable Compound, but I didn't like it.

After taking it, I feel better.
